BUCKLEY PUBLIC SERVICE Scholars

2021 GRADUATES
CONGRATS
CLASS OF 2021!
Dear Class of 2021 Buckley Public Service Scholars,

Congratulations on your incredible accomplishment. Your commitment to public service is impressive, and it is even more remarkable to reach this accomplishment amid the many challenges of completing your college career during the ongoing pandemic. Your resilience and persistence are inspiring to us all, and your service to others has been particularly important in these times.

I often say that Carolina is known as the “University of the people,” but that it might better be known as the “University for the people.” Your commitment to public service demonstrates exactly that. As graduates of the nation’s first public university, I have no doubt you will continue to make a difference in the lives of others wherever you go.

Thank you for representing the best of Carolina. I know you will continue to inspire us on your path ahead. Congratulations, 2021 Buckley Public Service Scholars.

Go Heels!

Kevin M. Guskiewicz
Chancellor, The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Dear Class of 2021 Buckley Public Service Scholars,

Congratulations! The Carolina Center for Public Service is pleased to be celebrating the 260 graduates in the Buckley Public Service Scholars Class of 2021. As the 17th class, you join the legacy of more than 3,000 Buckley alumni contributing to their communities at Carolina and around the world.

As a class, you have logged 132,750 hours of service that benefited communities while enhancing your own college experience. Remarkably, you found ways to complete that service safely, whether masked and in-person, or serving remotely in front of a computer screen. There is no doubt that this experience has provided valuable lessons that you will find relevant in your personal and professional lives long after your Carolina graduation.

I want to also acknowledge the many community organizations, Carolina faculty and others that made your service possible — I know you are grateful for their partnership and support. Each year, the BPSS graduation is a reminder of how essential our community and campus partners are, and how much we all can learn from one another.

Once again, congratulations to you, graduates. We hope you will stay in touch after you leave Chapel Hill and let us know how you incorporate your BPSS experience into the next chapter of your life.

Lynn White Blanchard
Director, Carolina Center for Public Service
ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Program Overview

Since 2003, the Carolina Center for Public Service (CCPS) has offered the Buckley Public Service Scholars program (BPSS) to provide a framework for Carolina undergraduate students committed to making a positive impact through service.

Connecting students with similar interests, BPSS challenges participants to expand their understanding of service. By providing special opportunities for leadership development and community engagement, BPSS enables students to connect academic and community-based experiences and build their capacity to help effect change.

While completing the program components, participants build portfolios that reflect their learning and service experiences throughout North Carolina, the nation and the world. This year, participating students reported service with more than 300 community and campus organizations.

In 2011, the Center announced the establishment of the Walter White Buckley Jr. Endowment. This endowment honors Walter Buckley, a business entrepreneur who has applied his professional expertise and personal commitment to making a difference in the lives of others. Mr. Buckley exemplifies the qualities that BPSS seeks to instill in Carolina students. The Center is grateful that the Walter White Buckley Jr. Endowment ensures Buckley Public Service Scholars will graduate for generations to come.

Program Components

The BPSS program model incorporates a student’s demonstrated commitment to public service with structured skills trainings and thoughtful reflection on that service. The program introduces many students to social entrepreneurship, community-based research, advocacy and philanthropy as important forms of public service.

To successfully complete the program, students build a portfolio that includes the following:

• A BPSS orientation session
• 300 hours of public service
• One service-learning course
• Four approved skills trainings
• A senior reflection activity
• A minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0

BPSS is open to all full-time undergraduate students with at least four semesters remaining at Carolina. Transfer students must have at least three semesters remaining to enroll.
SPECIAL OPPORTUNITIES FOR BPSS PARTICIPANTS

Arts in Public Service Fellows
In 2014, the Carolina Center for Public Service and Carolina Performing Arts partnered to create the Arts in Public Service Fellowship. This program encourages students to make a direct impact in their communities through the arts. In fulfilling BPSS program requirements, Arts in Public Service Fellows build portfolios with a focus on the arts as instruments of social change. This year, Jazmine Bunch and Hannah James graduated as Arts in Public Service Fellows.

North Carolina Outward Bound School Scholarship
Each year, CCPS typically awards North Carolina Outward Bound School (NCOBS) scholarships to students affiliated with BPSS, Carolina Leadership Development and the School of Education. Recipients receive full tuition for either a four-day or 28-day NCOBS course. In 2020-2021, the Center was unable to offer Outward Bound scholarships due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Philanthropy as a Tool for Social Change
Philanthropy as a Tool for Social Change is a three-credit-hour service-learning course offered through CCPS and the Learning by Giving Program. Through this course, students learn about and participate in the process of awarding grants to local agencies. The group of students functions as a committee that’s responsible for researching North Carolina needs, designing grant award criteria, drafting and distributing a request for proposals, reviewing submissions and awarding grants to select community organizations. Since 2010, students in the class have awarded 37 grants, totaling more than $123,000.

SMART Mentoring
SMART engages Carolina undergraduates and local middle-school students in mentoring relationships. The program targets students from low-income communities and focuses on race, class and gender issues. Staff from partner organization Volunteers for Youth match SMART mentors with mentees by early September and the mentoring commitment continues through late April.
Community Service Scholarships

In 2015, Scott MacDonald ’72 M.R.P. endowed the Scott D. MacDonald Community Service Scholarships, establishing the model for the Community Service Scholars Program. Community Service Scholarships are offered to a select group of service-oriented Carolina students. Scholarship recipients:

• Receive an annual scholarship
• Participate in the BPSS program to receive training, mentorship, leadership opportunities and structure to build knowledge and skills related to their service interests
• Engage in and document substantial service hours with the goal of an average of at least 250 hours annually during their time at Carolina
• Complete an annual reflection and self-assessment regarding their progress
• Design and implement a capstone project prior to graduation

Ariel Bryant, Eseosa Evbuoman, Natalie Gauger, Harrison Jacobs and Dillon Rubalcava are graduating as the 2021 class of MacDonald Community Service Scholars.

In 2017, Donald Ubell ’67 endowed the Ubell Family Community Service Scholarship. Tori Dunlap becomes the first Ubell Community Service Scholar graduate in 2021.

In 2018, Bret Leas and Audrey Fisher ’14 endowed the Fisher Family Community Service Scholarship. In 2019, Marjorie and Walter Buckley endowed the Lynn White Blanchard Community Service Scholarship. With the establishment of these additional scholarships, 23 students have been awarded Community Service Scholarships to date.

MacDonald Community Service Fellowships

Scott MacDonald also endowed the Scott D. MacDonald Community Service Fellowship Program, which provides programmatic funding for juniors and seniors to work with faculty and staff to identify and implement an experience-based public service project. This opportunity is available to Community Service Scholars and other students who can demonstrate a meaningful and sustained relationship with a community partner.

To date, the Carolina Center for Public Service has awarded 29 MacDonald Fellowships. Seven of this year’s BPSS graduates received MacDonald Fellowships.

Ariel Bryant received a fellowship for the project “Hope for the Hopeless – Meal Distribution” in partnership with Miracle Temple Deliverance Ministries in her hometown of Burgaw, NC.

Tori Dunlap received a fellowship for the project “SMART Mentoring Community Care Packages,” in partnership with Volunteers for Youth.

Natalie Gauger received the fellowship for the project “Connecting Tar Heels with the Town of Chapel Hill,” in partnership with the Town of Chapel Hill.
The 260 students graduating in the 2021 BPSS class reported 132,750 hours of service as of May 2021. Of these hours, 74 percent primarily benefited North Carolina, 20 percent benefited other states and 6 percent benefited other countries.

BPSS participants represent 39 of more than 70 majors on campus. Participants focus on a large variety of service areas, from health to the environment.

The Buckley Public Service Scholars program builds an environment in which service goes hand and hand with learning. I have had the great pleasure of working with various organizations on and off-campus to build my capacity to help effect change, while also developing as a student and community member.

Through the Buckley Public Service Scholars program, I have partaken in a variety of service experiences that will allow me to be a principled and conscientious public servant in the future. The program has challenged me to critically think about the meaning of public service so that I never lose sight of the overarching goals of working in the community’s best interest and always learning from the people I serve.

The Buckley Public Service Scholars program encouraged me to think critically about the service, organizations and systems I participate in. In every service experience I recorded and reflected on in my BPSS reflections, I found myself revisiting the goals of my service and questioning whether my service was the best and most considerate way to complete those goals.

Buckley Public Service Scholars allowed me to help make the arts more affordable and accessible in my community, and it gave me a chance to tutor other students at Carolina, allowing me to give back to a community that has shaped me since my freshman year. The orientation, skills training sessions and service-learning courses I participated in allowed me to make an impact in my service projects and equipped me with the tools and skills I need to continue my service beyond my time at Carolina.
